My UX/UI Journey

I always used to think that I'm not satisfied with my carrier and felt I missed something else, but luckily during my time as a freelance Web developer, I came across UX/UI design, which I felt very connecting to me as I was interested in creating new things, after some research on that it was clear to me that this is my passion. Since from my childhood, I was very passionate about creating innovative stuff but UX/UI gave me the right process to bring out the results efficiently.

I also joined a Mastery course on UX/UI designing by growthschool.io, where I explored Hands-on projects that gave me much knowledge and hold on UX/UI.
