Project -2 : Automated Leasing System   August 2017 to March 2018

Client : TIP

Skills : Spring MVC, Spring boot, Hibernate, Mysql

Description:

ALS is a system used to keep and record all the relevant details concerned with the leasing business of GE TIP. The company TIP is involved in the business of leasing trailers for long term and short term. TIP has various companies spanned over Europe under which there are branches. The trailers (called Units) belong to the branches.

The system keeps a track of when a particular trailer is Checked Out (taken on hire/lease by a customer) and when it is Checked In (returned back to the Company by the customer). It allows the user to create a rate (it may be on daily, weekly and monthly basis) at which the trailer would be hired to the customer. It also has provision for recording the details of whether there is any damage to the trailer when it is checked in. If damage is there then the customer is charged appropriately.
